

TOMORROW MATTERS IF • WRITTEN THE NIGHT BEFORE

Decide it before the day decides for you.

One target, chosen while today is still fresh. Maintenance is real work and it comes second, on purpose rather than by default.

THE ONE THING

Concrete enough that you will know when it is done.

THE BLOCK

Twenty five, fifty, or ninety minutes. A real one beats a perfect one.

WHEN IT STARTS

HOW LONG

WHERE

WHAT IS OFF

THEN THE MAINTENANCE

The upkeep you choose, after the one thing is done.

WHAT I WILL NOT DO TOMORROW

A day has edges or it has none.
